Earl Warren Gains Strength In County With Election Near

A definite swing to Earl Warren, non-partisan candidate for governor, by voters regardless of their party affiliations was reported by political observers following his visit to San Diego and several county communities re cently.

Giving impetus to the movement has been the formation of Warren-for-Governor groups in all of the larger centers, with Democrats, Republicans and Non-Partisans joining forces to end what Warren terms "Olsonism".

As defined by Warren, "Olsonism" is an attempt to set up a one-man dictatorship—"the very thing we are fighting in this war" —and an "Olsonite" is one who blindly follows a type of leadership that fosters prejudices, hatreds and extreme partisanship.

With the election only a few days away, Warren has issued this pledge to the people of California:

"I feel that one fundamental issue should be placed clearly and squarely and honestly before the voters of this state.

"That is the issue of non-partisan administration of the government of California.

"If I am elected governor I shall organize an administration in which ability, integrity and experience shall be the sole determining factors for appointment to State Service. I shall make appointments solely on the basis of fitness for the task and not because the appointee is or has been a Republican or Democrat. It is only just that my position be known by all the voters, regardless of party affiliation or preference.

"Thus, if I am elected, I shall have a clear mandate from the people to conduct their business along non-partisan lines.

Car Owners Urged To Obtain Proper Registration Cards

Motor vehicle owners who have lost or misplaced their registration cards should apply at once to the nearest office of the Department of Motor Vehicles for a duplicate. Presentation of the registration card will be required by the federal rationing authorities when applications are filed for gasoline rationing coupon books

This information was received this week The Press from the office of James M. Carter, Director of Motor Vehicles, at Sacramento.

Applications for duplicate registration cards may be obtained from any branch office of the Department ,the California Highway Patrol, or by writing to the main office at Sacramento. The fee established by the Vehicle Code for duplicates is 50 cents.

If the duplicate does not arrive on time or if the registration card is being held in Sacramento pending a transfer of ownership, registration of non resident car, or for any other reason, gasoline coupon books may be obtained by signing an affidavit form, prepared by the rationing authorities stating the registration card is in the hands of the Department or giving some other valid excuse why it cannot be immediately produced.

Director Carter said that while every effort will be made to facilitate applications for duplicates and transfers, the Department is so badly handicapped for lack of personnel that it is normally about 50,000 applications behind in its work.

To avoid delays in getting gasoline books he urged that no time be lost in applying for duplicate cards because rationing will be effective about November 22.

Senator Fletcher Lauded By Demos Of State Senate

"Outstanding service to the state and its people without regard to political considerations", is the commendation given Sen. Ed Fletcher by members of the upper house at Sacramento. Among those thus praising Senator Fletcher's record are four prominent Democratic state senators—Charles H. Duell, of Butte County; Herbert W. Slater, of Sonoma County; Peter P. Myhand, of Merced County, and Charles Brown, who represents Inyo and Mono counties.

"The popular majority given you in the primary election reflects the sentiment of the people generally that responsiveness to public duty and not strict adherence to partisanship is most to be desired in legislative representatives", Duell wrote.

Slater ,noting that Fletcher never played partisan politics, said, "When it comes to legislation sought by your district, I have never known a more energetic man; you also have supported much legislation of statewide importance".

Saying he was speaking as a life-long Democrat, Myhand declared: "I know of no other state senator who has done more for his district, or the state as a whole, than you. Men who place the good of all the people above partisan politics are very much needed in our legislatures. I am confident the people of your district will give you a big vote Nov. 3."

In Brown's opinion, Fletcher has at all times acted in the interest of all the people, "never sacrificing principle for partisan politics; as a Democrat it has been my pleasure to work with you."

Added to these expressions of regard were the reactions of several state senators who visited San Diego last week and favored a suitable building for housing all state agencies in this area. They described Sen. Fletcher as one of the foremost personalities in California, "a man who knows how to do things, and gets them done."

Agricultural Data Sought By Federal Security Agency

"Procuring labor for our ranches, farms and dairies is the toughest problem now facing us," Mr. Roy Ferguson, manager of the local office of the U. S. Employment Service said in a statement released for press today. "The problem is greater than just county wide," he said. "It effects us all, young or old, city or country dweller. It effects the American way of life, our standard of living."

"In order that the labor shortage can be alleviated the WAR MANPOWER COMMISSION must know the facts. And it remains with the farmer and grower to supply us with those facts. We have to know", Mr. Ferguson continued, "what acreage is planted in what crops. What the peak harvest season is, and what the labor load will be for every rancher in the county."

"This information can only be secured from the grower. Every rancher, grower and dairyman is asked to give his full cooperation. Answer in the fullest possible detail the questionnaire which has been mailed to over 6000 growers in San Diego County."

"Even though a rancher may be a member of an organization which furnishes all or part of the labor for harvesting ,it still is necessary that the questionnaire be fully filled out, explaining how much labor is furnished by the organization and what portion is procured by the grower."

"The reason we want this information," Mr. Ferguson stated, "is so that the U. S. Employment Service can certify as to the actual number of agricultural workers needed in this area. Knowing this number, several things may be done. One might possibly be a work battalion organized to handle critical crop harvests on short notice."

"But whatever is done depends on how soon and how completely the ranchers and growers of San Diego County respond to the questionnaire."

Flag Presented To Girl Scouts

Presentation of an American flag to the newly organized Girl Scout troop of Bostonia was made by Mrs. Carl Howell in behalf of the Sable Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on Thursday evening. Girls of the troop are making every effort to completely outfit their organization with necessities of the order.

Returning Hunters Report Many Deer Bagged

Hunters returning from the forest and mountain regions of Utah report large numbers of deer being bagged there.

First to show their trophies of the hunt were Cecil and Dane Carendar., Erman Kouns, and Pete Matson who bagged 10 good size deer.

Another foursome included Herman Schiller, Guy Miller, Johnny Lang and Ralph Potter who broke the record todate with 11 deer. They returned from the same hunting grounds of Beaver, Utah, on Thursday.

A party of two, E. Anderson and C. W. Callahan returned from Utah with a deer apiece.

Plan Explained By National WPB

The Foods Requirements Committee, in the following questions and answers, outlines various points concerning the civilian Share-The-Meat program now in effect:

Q—Should I hold my use of meat to 2½ pounds of lean meat or 2½ pounds of cuts, including bone or gristle or fat—in short what the butcher passes over the counter?

A—Your weekly share of the meat is 2½ pounds of cuts of beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton as they are sold to you by the butcher—meat which comes from the dressed carcasses of cattle, calves, sheep, lambs and swine, either in processed or unprocessed form. In trade terms, the allowance is figured "bone in." For example, 2½ pounds of spare ribs, despite its large content of bone, is a week's allowance of meat for one person. However, remember there is a long list of nutritious meats available in addition to the 2½ pound allotment. These include hearts, livers, kidneys, sweetbreads, brains, pigs feet. Canned meat, sausage, scrapple, souse and

War Man Power Commission Named For This County

In a statement issued recently by Edwin Briggs, chairman of the San Diego County War Manpower committee, he said: "This local organization is here to help the grower. This committee will analyze the farm labor situation, giving special emphasis to the placement of all available native and foreign labor as well as including students and other citizens.

"We can't arrive at a conclusive or even comprehensive solution of the problem until we know all the facts. In line with this," Mr. Briggs continued, "it is up to the grower and employer of all types of farm labor to present their information of definite labor needs to the United States Employment Service. And this had best be done in advance of actual need."

Members of the San Diego County Agricultural War Mantural adjustment agency; Harry Roche, Assistant Agricultural Briggs Sunnyside; W. J. Lee, San Diego (U. S. Employment Service); F. J. Ferguson, Agricul-power Committee are: A. F. Hubbard, Escondido; Mrs. Ada Y. Allen, San Diego; Edwin Commissionaire; Clarence Foster, County Farm Bureau, Lakeside, and Albert Chamness, Twin Oaks.

Mr. Briggs further stated that, "Before we can expect any relief for our farm labor problems we have to prove it with facts and figures. This means that orders for help must be placed with the United States Employment Service at 1165 Front street, San Diego."

"V Home" Stickers To Be Distributed Throughout County

Stickers indicating "V Homes" will be awarded throughout the county in the near future, according to Thomas L. Crawford, director San Diego County Defense council. In order to obtain the stickers, which will be distributed by air raid wardens in the various communities, a home must meet five requirements including air raid preparatfons, conservation measures, War Bond purchasing and others.

Every home should have practical arrangements for blacking out quarters in which the occupants can live, eat, sleep and cook if necessary according to the county director. This room should be the safest in the house, with the least amount of window and door exposure and the greatest structural strength in case of bombing. It should have a strong table as a protection against falling objects and at least a three day's supply of food and water should be available.

It should be equipped with a flashlight and candles, or an oil lamp in case electricity fails; and should have a radio, reading matter, games or other aids for relieving tension and maintaining calm during emergencies.

Every home should have fire-fighting equipment and its occupants should know how to use it. The minimum requirement is a garden hose, bucket, shovel and dry sand.

All readily inflammable material should be cleaned out of the attic, basement and garage.

The medicine chest should contain certain emergency supplies; the minimum being tanic acid jelly for burns, aspirin, aromatic spirits of ammonia, bandages and sterile gauze in sealed packages, adhesive tape, baking soda, household bleach and strong laundry soap. The last three articles are for combatting effects of gas.

Last, the entire family should know the air raid alarm and allclear signals, the gas signal (beating on metal gong or pan) to summon aid during air raid alarms by calling for the air raid wardens and avoiding the use of telephones.

Further details of the other four qualifications which will entitle the householder to display the "V Home" sticker in his window can be secured from local area directors.

School 1c Milk Program Asks For Underwriters

Milk for one cent per half pint for every Lakeside school child will be possible under the plan being discussed by school authorities, states E. H. Carender. In the contract with the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the Federal government it provides that the government purchase milk at wholesale prices to be distributed to each child for one cent per half pint.

Underwriting of the program by an organization or organizations of the community is necessary before the children are able to have this health-building milk so reasonable, continued Mr. Car ender. With the school budget made up for the year, it is impossible for the school district to carry the financial load of $60 to $70 a month required for the deficit between the wholesale price and the one cent per half pint. Th school is therefore asking civic minded organizations this week to join with them in providing a milk fund.

Two other factors yet to be ironed out are the supply of fresh drinking milk for this purpose and the supplying of 200 to 300 additional bottles. According to health laws the milk must be bottled before it is distributed.

When reasonable assurance of the underwriting is made, the School Milk Program can be started. The government has insisted that each child be charged only one cent per half pint.

The school children have expressed a willingness to start a milk fund by bringing pennies to help decrease the deficit.

Individual volunteers in the community are asked to make up the difference in the price one child pays for a bottle of milk and the wholesale price of the half pint consummed. This amounts to about one cent per day.

Farmers Group Favor Warren, Ware and Houser

Win with Warren, Houser and Ware!

That's the battle-cry of the farmers of San Diego county who have had quite enough of Olsonism, bungling and political maneuvering in high places, according to the officers of the group.

The Farmers' Committee in support of the candidacies of Fred Houser, for lieutenant governor, and Wallace Ware for attorney general are urging farmers of San Diego county to "support these two splendid men who, by their records have shown themselves your friends."

Commenting on the necessity of giving Earl Warren real supporters of lieutenant governor, and attorney general. E. E. Badger ,chairman of the farmers committee said:

"What a tragedy it would be to elect a wartime governor in Warren ,and then burden him with men who are unwilling to cooperate.

"We have checked carefully the records of Fred Houser, and Wallace Ware, and they are 100% with the agricultural interests. Both men have waged vigorous and militant campaigns against the secondary boycott and hot cargo. We certainly solicit your support next Tuesday."

The committee pointed to Sen-Kenny's un-refuted communistic leanings as "sufficient in itself to disqualify him from aspiring to such an important post in war time as attorney general."

Change Indicated

Voters of California will have an opportunity to effect a great and much needed change in state affairs when they go to the polls next Tuesday. After four years of the present administration, highlighted by broken promises, general incompetence and chaos, any change might well be considered advantageous. However, the people of this state are fortunate that there is an experienced, able and trustworthy candidate for the high office of governor.

Earl Warren's record is an enviable one. He has demonstrated his ability in state affairs through the successful conduct of the office of attorney general. He has proved that he possesses qualities of leadership which were never more greatly needed than at present. He has placed his campaign on a non-partisan basis, and when elected will give California a non-partisan administration. It is to the advantage of citizens of all political beliefs to support Earl Warren for governor.

The State at this election has the opportunity of electing one of the best legislators ever to enter the race for Lieutenant Governor.

Fred Houser has been an outstanding membed of the State legislature for many years. He was the leader in the Economy Bloc, which threw the present Governor for a ninety yard loss and saved the state TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS. There isn't a finer or better man in the State of California for Lieutenant Governor. The election of Fred Houser will mean the assurance of four more years of economical government.

For state senator from this district, however, we can see no reason for a change. Ed Fletcher has represented San Diego county ably and efficiently. His record speaks for itself. We do not believe his opponent could accomplish half so much for this district. Hence, it is logical to return this official to the office of state senator.

THE MOTORIST'S "V" FOR '43

Under a metal-saving order of the War Production Board, California motorists will be issued four-inch squares of white metal, each emblazoned with a flaming red "V", for their 1943 license plates. The metal tabs will be made to fit over old plates, and thus a considerable saving in steel will be effected.

This plan should be excellent for morale, as well as for conservation. Several million jaunty and defiant red Victory "V's", flaunted on cars driven by motorists who are restricted on tires, rationed on gas and slowed down to a snail's pace, should hearten those who might tend to think their personal wartime burdens unduly severe.

Back in peace days, the California motorists took it on the chin with a very heavy set of taxes on virtually everything connected with owning and operating a car—and he was the first to be hit hard by restrictions of the war, when rubber imports vanished. But he's still on the highway, driving slow, nursing his tires, and confident that all highways lead to final victory. That will be the California motorists symbol—his "V" for '43.

A WEEK OF WAR

Five strong Japanese attempts to wipe out the American foothold on Guadalcanal Island have been beaten off by Marines and soldiers at a cost to the enemy of five tanks and heavy casualties, the Navy announced late October 25. Four attacks were launched during the night of October 23 and 24, paced by tanks and covered by a field artillery barrage, and the fifth attack was thrown back early the next morning. U. S. Artillery, firing from emplacements in the dense jungle, were credited with a large share of the American success in the first real test of strength with the Japanese on the Island. In fighting at sea and overland in the Solomons area between October 23-25, 21 Japanese aircraft were destroyed and three damaged, three vessels damaged and two probably damaged, with the loss of one U. S. airplane. Earlier the Navy reported the destroyers O'Brien and Meredith were lost in the Solomons as a result of enemy action.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Australia announced October 26 that allied planes operating from Australia in support of American forces in the Solomons have delivered another heavy blow to Japanese shipping in Rabaul Harbor, increasing their total sunk or damaged there to 100,000 tons in three days. A cruiser, destroyer and two cargo ships were believed definitely to have been sunk. Lt. Gen. Stilwell's Chinese headquarters reported American planes raided Hong Kong October 26 for the second time in two days and also dropped bombs on Japanese-held Canton.

U. S. Flying fortresses destroyed nine German fighters in attacks on the Lorient submarine base and a Nazi airdrome near Cherboug. Army Air Force headquarters in London announced. Three U. S. bombers were missing. The Navy announced the sinking of five more U. S. merchant vessels in the north Atlantic, four in July and one in September. U. S. Naval forces again raided the Gilbert Islands, sinking two patrol boats and damaging two larger vessels.

Prisoners of War

Secretary of War Stimson told his press conference that names of four captured U. S. fliers claimed in Tokyo propaganda broadcats correspond closely to the names of four missing men, but stated the War Department had no information that the Japanese were failing to abide by international law and the Geneva convention for the treatment of prisoners. Mr. Stimson said "some of the planes" in the raid on Tokyo "encountered bad weather after they had left Japan and were forced off their course. One landed in Siberia. Several others made forced landings at night in China, "but no American plane was shot down." He said "a very few of the crews of these planes are carried on the list of missing. Some may have been forced down for lack of gasoline in Japanese-controlled territory." Later the War Deparment announced the names of three other participants in the Tokyo raid "understood to be missing."

The Office of War Information said "secrecy was highly desirable in the hope of saving the lives and securing the freedom of certain crew members who crashed in areas controlled by the enemy." Complete examination of the reasons for maintaining secrecy about the results of the raid cannot be made even yet, OWI stated. Lives "of great value to the American cause" would be endangered by "the very explanation," the announcement said.

Rationing

Price Administrator Henderson ordered nationwide rationing of coffee, effective at midnight on November 28, on the basis of one pound each five weeks—about a cup a day—for all persons who were 15 years of age or older when they registered for sugar supplies on May 4-5. All retail sales of coffee will be frozen at midnight, November 21, for the week before rationing begins in order to permit merchants to stock their shelves. Consumers will not have to register to obtain coffee. They will use their sugar rationing book. To get the first coffee ration, the consumer will be required to surrender the last stamp—No. 28—in the sugar book. Subsequent rations of coffee will be on coupons taken in sequence toward the center of the book.

Rubber Director Jeffers reported chemists would develop "within five or six months" a 100 percent synthetic tire good for all but military and heavy truck duty, but such tires will be allotted for essential civilian driving only. The first large synthetic rubber plant will be opened at institute, W. Va., sometime in December. "Sometime after mid-1943, we ought to have enough synthetic tires to make an appreciable difference in the situation regarding essential driving. Sometime in 1944 we ought to have enough to begin to furnish tires to civilians for family use," he said. Special gasoline rations will be available for motorists who are away from home when nationwide rationing begins, and special allowances will be made for motorists who must move their cars "in the event of a bona fide change similar products are not subject to quota restrictions but are affected to the extent that the meat used in their manufacture is subject to such restrictions. Lards, rendering fats, raw leaf, casings, offal and oils are not included in the 2½ pound quota.

Q—What other suggestions are there to make up for the restrictions on beef, veal pork, lamb and mutton?

A—Poultry, one of the most substantial of all meats, is available in larger quantity than usual. Fish, eggs, dairy products and legumes are also excellent alternate sources of proteins not included in the meat sharing allowance.

Q—How about meat eaten when dining out in a restaurant?

A—The consumer should deduct the amount of beef, veal, mutton, lamb and pork eaten in public dining places from his 2½ pound quota just as though he or she had bought it at the butcher shop for eating at the family table.

Q—Can a host or hostess buy sufficient meat of the restricted kind to feed a dinner party?

A—Yes. But the guests should deduct their portions from their weekly 2½ pound quota. In other words, for guests the principle is the same as that in effect when they eat out at restaurants.

Meat For Pets

Q—Is there a meat allowance for dogs, cats or other pets under the Share-The-Meat program?

A—Not of pork, beef, veal, lamb or mutton. If you insist on feeding pets these meats, you should in fairness subtract them from your own personal allowance for the week. If you give your dog, for example, a pound of these meats, your own personal quota should not exceed 1½ pounds. No allowances for pets were included in calculating the fair weekly share for civilians.

Q—What is the basic reason for America's Share-The-Meat program?

A—We're lucky right now in having the biggest supply of meat on hand in the history of our country. But we're also in the midst of our biggest war. Our total supply today is slightly over 24 billion pounds. Civilians, if they were allowed to buy all the meat they wanted, would take only 21 billion pounds. But our Army, Navy and Allies need 6½ billion pounds. That would call for an outlay of 27½ billion pounds, 3½ billion more than we've got. That 3½ billion pounds must come out of the civilian supply. The civilian supply is 17½ billion pounds and a normal one. The situation calls not so much for hardship as for fairness in sharing among ourselves to make certain the provision of meat needed by our fighting men and Allies.

Indigent Relief In County Shows 4 Percent Drop

The number of people receiving county indigent relief in San Diego county dropped 4 per cent from July to August, going from 1,554 for July to 1,497 for August, California Taxpayers' association stated today, reviewing relief trends in California counties.

The amount expended by the county in direct county indigent relief dropped 4 per cent, when the two months were compared, the Taxpayers' association found. During July $24,529 was paid out to county indigents, and in August $23,525 was given.

Over the state as a whole, the number of persons receiving relief as county indigents was 10 per cent lower in August than in July, the association stated. In July, 49,093 persons received this kind of aid, compared with $43,946 in August.

Total amount paid out for relief of county indigents by the fifty-eight counties in the state was 9 per cent less for August than for July, $591,222 being expended in July and $539,852 in August.

In eleven counties the number of persons receiving county indigent relief was at least one-fifth lower in August than in July, the association found. Mono county showed a decrease of 50 per cent; Sierra, 43 per cent; Alpine, 40 per cent; Toulumne, 32 per cent; Del Norte and Glenn, 28 per cent; Alameda, 25 per cent; Inyo and Napa, 20 per cent.

The amount of aid extended dropped more than 20 per cent in thirteen counties, when August is compared with July, the association found. Counties showing decreases of more than 20 per cent include Mono, 91 per cent; Del Norte, 71 per cent; Sierra, 56 per cent; Alpine 50 per cent; Sacramento, 29 per cent; Marin and Stanislaus, 28 per cent; Alameda, 27 per cent Tulare 26 per cent; Amador and El Dorado, 24 per cent; and Siskiyou, 21 per cent. In twenty-seven counties the amount expended for county indigent relief was at least 10 per cent less in August than in July.

"Public officials and local citizens should welcome and do all they can to further this healthy trend," the Taxpayers' association declared.

"Every dollar that is not needed for relief should be carefully impounded and used for reduction of county taxes next year. County indigent relief is paid for entirely from the county tax levy. It is not too early to be looking ahead. Federal taxes next year will be enormous. Now is the time to start seeing to it that local taxes for 1943-44 are as low as possible."

"Under the War Chest plan, the number of appeals for financial aid will be reduced to the absolute minimum, thereby effecting substancial economies, conserving time and effort on the part of civic-minded citizens who volunteer as campaign workers, and giving greater assurances that the agencies concerned will be adequately supported.

"Simply stated, the War Chest is a proven war-time plan for streamlining the community's fund-raising processes. Wherever adopted it has had popular acceptance."

New Container Saves War Metals

A saving of 10,000,000 pounds of metal a year will be effected through the use of a new container developed by Macmillan Petroleum Corporation for the distribution of motor oils in containers sealed at the refinery for opening by the final purchaser. The development has evoked a keen interest among government officials concerned with metal shortages and transportation problems, according to Raymond S. Macmillan, president of the corporation, shown in inset in above picture, who has just returned from New York and Washington. "Especially interesting was the reaction of Senator Guy M. Gillette of Iowa, said Mr. Macmillan. "Many farm and forest products go into the manufacture of the all-fibre containers as well as in the applying of the labels and in making the tough plastic lining which has proved impervious to oil and which can be adapted to packaging various other products. The container was developed in the Macmillan Laboratories and has been generously turned over to the rest of the petroleum and canning industry.

Abbey Accuses Izac Of Grandstanding On Draft Bill

James B. Abbey, former district attorney who is running for Congress, this week accused Rep. Ed Izac of "playing grandstand politics" on the issue of drafting 18 and 19-year-old boys for army service.

"Mr. Izac is adept in political fence straddling, as witness the stand he took when the draft bill was before congress," Abbey said. "He was quoted by the newspapers as terming the bill an obnoxious measure, and saying that while congress could not fail to carry out the desires of the President, he protested the recommendations of the President's advisers.

"As a political statement, that was about tops. First, he says it is wrong to draft 18-year-olds, but he voted for it in spite of his convictions. Then he tried to excuse the administration.

"In this instance, I think, Mr. Izac straddled too far; tried to take in too much territory. If he is talking to the mother of an 18-year-old, he can say the measure is obnoxious. If he is talking to a citizen who thinks boys should be drafted, he can reply that he voted for the measure. If he is criticized by administration leaders, he has a ready answer: He protested that the President had been ill-advised.

"My impression, and I think it is shared by most people, is that if a congressman was opposed to a measure in principle, he voted no; if he favored it, he voted yes. The Izac technique is to go on record both ways, just to be safe.

"When it comes time to stand and be counted for or against a measure, our present congressman awaits the 'stop' and 'go' signal from the higher-ups before deciding which way to vote. That's not my idea of representing the people, nor do I think the people themselves want a rubber stamp congressman."

County Group Urges Yes Vote on "Hot Cargo" Proposition

Because considerable confusion exists regarding the meaning of the term "hot cargo." the San Diego County Committee favoring a "yes" vote on Proposition 1 today released the following explanation:

"To take an imaginary example, let's suppose you are a citrus grower. For years it has been your custom to recruit labor from among your neighbors and friends when time comes to pick your fruit. You like this method of harvesting, and your neighbors do too.

"But suppose this year, a few days before your crop is to be picked, you are approached by a couple of individuals who would call themselves 'labor leaders'. They ask you who is going to pick your crop. You tell them your neighbors will help you, as has always been the custom.

"You are then informed by these 'gentlemen' that your neighbors will pick no fruit for you this year, unless they join the union. If they do not join, you are threatened with 'unfortunate consequences.'

"Because you believe in freedom of action, as promised under our Constitution, you hire your neighbors anyhow. You try to hire trucks to take your citrus to the packers—but union truck drivers will not haul your oranges or lemons because your crop has been declared 'hot cargo' by 'labor leaders.' You take the fruit to the packers yourself, perhaps, and when you get it to the packing house, employees there refuse to handle or process your fruit because it is 'hot.' You must then either haul it to some distant packing house which will disregard these 'labor leaders' orders, or you must let your crop spoil. Thousands of tons of citrus and other crops have been destroyed by these very methods —and this is 'hot cargo' in action."

To prevent this from happening to your crops," the committee's statement declares, "vote 'yes' on Proposition 1 at the election next Tuesday. Proposition 1 outlaws 'hot cargo' for the duration."

Veterans Groups To Build Ship From Bond Sales

The Armistice Day Committee representing all World War I Veteran groups and their auxiliary units are embarking on a campaign to sell War Savings Bonds sufficient to cover the cost of a Liberty Ship, which will be launched shortly after Armistice Day.

The Posts, Units and Chapters will vie one with the other in several contests which will highlite the campaign, the most important of which will be the privilege of naming the ship in the name of a deceased World War Veteran of 1917-18. Arrangements have been made with the Maritime Commission by the California Shipbuilding Corporation and the United States Treasury Department making this build a ship bond selling campaign possible. To the Post, Unit or Chapter selling the greatest number of bonds in proportion to their membership will go the honor of naming the sponsor of the ship.

The heads of all World War Veteran Groups are united in the belief that the most fitting observance of the end of World War I and the memory of their departed comrades, that they demonstrate anew their love and loyalty to their country in a practical, useful manner in the greatest need of the present war effort, namely SHIPS. ALL WORLD WAR VETERANS are urged to purchase War Savings Bonds during the period starting October 17th and ending November 11, 1942, and to urge all persons with whom they are in contract to do likewise and make this campaign a success. Full details of the contest are in the mail to each and every Post, Unit and Chapter ,and members should contact their Commanders and Presidents without delay in order that they may assist in the undertaking.

The campaign will culminate in a day long celebration at Victory House starting at 11 a. m., November 11, 1942, on the arrival of a series of parades representing all branches of the services of the present World War and those of the first World War.

Frank T. Stump, Chef de Gare of Voiture 47 of the 40 and 8 has been named General Chairman and offices have been set up at Los Angeles.

Bond purchases of all citizens may be accredited to the Veteran Group of their choice during this campaign by their notifying the head of the organization or the Joint Committee. While keen rivalry will prevail among the various groups for the honors extended by the plan, there is 100 per cent unity that the important matter is to Sell the Bonds that Build the Ships, and to go over the top once again as they did in 1917-18, 24 years ago—OVER THE TOP WITH SHIPS—

U. S. Webb Endorses Robert W. Kenny As Attorney General

U. S. Webb, for 36 years attorney general of California, today reiterated his endorsement of Senator Robert W. Kenney as the successor to Earl Warren.

In a public endorsement, Webb, a Republican, pointed out that during his nine terms of office he had operated with strict nonpartisanship.

He declared that political affiliation should not be a matter of concern to voters, assuring them that Kenny would maintain "fair, honest and efficient service to all classes," as attorney general.

"Senator Kenny's civic activities have been wide and noteworthy, and in every field he has shown the highest type of citizenship," Webb asserted. "As a capable and efficient lawyer he has the capacity to deal with varied and intricate duties of office."

The speaker reviewed the history of the Kenny family - San Francisco pioneers - and spoke glowingly of Senator Kenny's record as an office holder.

He noted Kenny's efficient service as deputy county counsel, his scrupulous judicial temperament as municipal and superior court judge, and his outstanding record as state senator and Economic Planning committee chairman which won him the War Production Board medal of achievement for his work on behalf of the war effort.

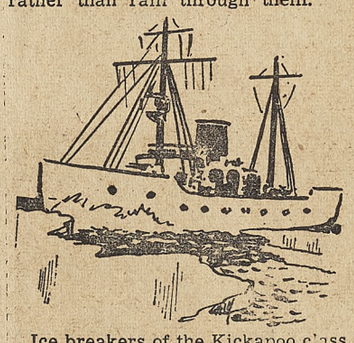
What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It is imperative that the ship lanes be kept free of ice. With American troops occupying Iceland and the Navy using the northern route for transportation of supplies to Russia, ice breakers are essential to Naval operations. The ice breaker is a specially constructed ship with heavily armored bows and powerful engines that crush the ice floes rather than ram through them.



Ice breakers of the Kickapoo class operating in the North Atlantic cost approximately $10,000,000. You can help our Navy build these ships by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. Ballots IT WILL TAKE AS WELL AS Bullets TO WIN THE FIGHT FOR DEMOCRACY!

AMERICANS . . . boys from California . . . are today offering up their lives to protect our right to the ballot.

We owe them a solemn obligation to exercise that right wisely.

Governor Olson and the other Democratic state officials of California have long supported the interests of the plain people whose strength is the strength of America.

Despite the obstructionists . . . the appeasers . . . those who applauded the pact of Munich, these faithful officials have carried on a fight for the plain people of California which has paralleled that of President Roosevelt for the people of the nation.

The RECORD reveals that they have been fought at every turn by the Hoovers and Hearsts and Chandlers . . . yes, and the Warrens of California.

The Republicans, hiding behind a synthetic nonpartisanship ask you to turn back the clock. Through every channel of vicious propaganda they ask you to defeat your interests on election day.

Keep the faith with your men in uniform . . . with America . . .

Your Job and Mine

Don't be fraid to look in the face of tomorrow. It's going to ours! It's going to belong to America.

Its strenght will be ours and its faults will be ours. It will be just as good or as bad as we make it. So don't be afraid to look in its face.

We're going to win this war. Why? Because we have to!

Winning may take longer and cost more than any of us now likes to think, but losing would cost a lot more.

So We'll Win. Even if it's a fight to exhaustion. Even if victory is to the side that can put the last ten thousand planes in the air. Those ten thousand planes must be ours. For we alone can turn victory into peace.

Our ways have always been by choice the ways of peace. Our major battles have been fought against disease and ignorance. Our greatest victories have beer won against poverty and drudgery.

Here in America we have set up the world's highest standards of living, of education, of health, of personal freedom and human dignity.

Labor-saving machinery. Mass production. These are American ideas. They were intended to make life richer—not to destroy it.

We created the automobile to free man from the shackles of distance. It was our idea to convert it into a chariot of death. We gave man the wings of an angel—and he used them to become a vulture.

We have drawn the blueprints of a better world. If it's ever built, we'll have to build it.

That's why the peace will be made this time by ourselves and those who think the way we do.

We'll make the peace — and we'll keep the peace. It will be a peace and not a truce. It will be a peace in which men dare to plant their fields and women dare create new life. And the vast armament plants will flood the world with those things that make life easier and happier.

It will be a peace that will last—not for a year or for a generation...but for enough generations so that all men shall learn that the world holds wealth enough for everybody when they learn to share and not destroy it. And those last ten thousand planes—they will be the last that take the air in anger.

Yes! Liberty is Priceless! Buy Defense Bonds.

Mr. L. R. Coleman is now employed on guard duty in San Diego.

Women in Defense

by Patricia Corley

The San Francisco Ordnance District, which is responsible for the flow of war materials from some 600 manufacturing plants in the nine western states, is perhaps a prime example of how women are invading the innermost male sanctums.

What is considered a masculine career—drafting—has been taken over by a young, pretty blonde who started out to be a commercial artist. "When did I first think of becoming a draftsman?" she repeated. "Why, I have always wanted to be one, and when war was declared I took a short course at school and applied for the position." And according to Colonel K. B. Harmon, Chief of the District, she is doing an unsurpassable job.

Women lawyers also play an important part in the Ordnance District program. They are charged, among other duties, with the painstaking, technical assignments of preparing contracts for the manufacture of ordnance material from war plants.

One of the most able personnel procurement heads within the District is also a woman. Since November, 1941, when the thirteen Army Ordnance Districts started t oenlarge as the cry for national defense became stronger, she has interviewed an average of 25 persons per day, and has been directly responsible for the hiring of 500 men and women.

Purchasing agent of supplies and equipment necessary to keep the District and all its Sub-Offices in the nine Western States operating smoothly is also a woman. That she is doing an exceptional job is demonstrated daily as representatives of the nation's larger supply companies report she is one of the most able, pleasant, business-like purchasing agents it has been their pleasure to do business with.

But these executives are only a few of the hundreds of women doing man-sized jobs in the Ordnance District. There are the inspectors who, dressed in their natty blue uniforms, represent the District in war production plants where they check and accept or reject finished material to see that it meets the rigid Government requirements.

There are the hundreds of able secretaries and stenographers; the reproduction room where thousands of mimeographed sheets are turned out daily, the reception desks where visitors are asked to identify themselves before they are allowed to enter the offices; the messenger girls who keep the mail and directives and other papers flowing constantly from one office to the other.

As for the all-important routine jobs, more industries are daily training women to fill them, too. A bay area contractor who has set an amazing above-promise production output, claims that women, who make up three-quarters of his assembly line, are responsible because they are better suited for the routine jobs than men.

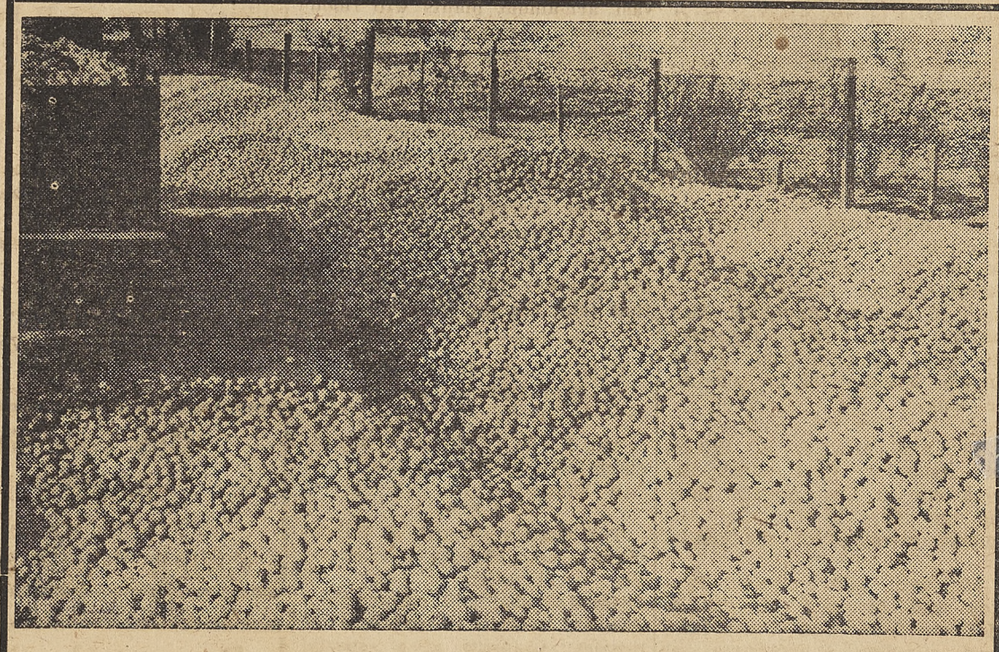
THIS is What "HOT CARGO" Means!



Because they are "HOT CARGO," these and other hundreds of tons of oranges and lemons were dumped and destroyed recently in Orange County.

Would YOU permit anyone to throw the contents of your pantry into the gutter, and to destroy your food supplies?

Of course not! Yet, we are allowing precious food which should go to our families and to our boys in uniform to be destroyed in California by so-called "labor leaders" who force honest workers to give in to their "HOT CARGO" commands. To gain their own selfish ends, they frequently declare crops like the above "HOT CARGO" because a farmer refuses to insist that his employees unionize. Result: "labor leaders" declare his crops "HOT," and no union employee can haul, process or handle his crops—and they are allowed to spoil or are destroyed.

WASTE IS CRIMINAL IN PEACE, TREASON IN WARTIMES!

OUTLAW "HOT CARGO" AND PREVENT THIS TRAGIC WASTE OF FOOD
